

Are You an Ice Cream Diva?

Passion. Pleasure. Power. All are attributes of a true diva.

And if your passion is for indulging in the pleasure of premium ice creams, more power to you. No need to deny it any longer—you may indeed be an Ice Cream Diva.

Check the statements below that describe you to discover if your indulgences have achieved operatic proportions:

The Consumer Diva

___ You never hesitate when deciding between rich Peanut Butter Panic with its fudge swirls and luscious Double Strawberry ice creams. You buy both!

___ You think nothing of driving a half hour to pick up a supply of Triple Raspberry Temptation if your neighborhood grocery store is out of it.

___ You believe you can never have too many shoes in your closet or too many flavors of ice cream in your freezer. After all, you never know what you'll be in the mood for on any given day.

The Social Diva

___ You serve your guests dessert samplers showcasing an array of ice creams. Bordeaux Cherry Chocolate, Pistachio Almond, Homemade Turtle Sundae — or any delectable combination is your idea of the perfect end to a lovely meal.

___ You vow that lips that don't touch yummy, creamy, frosty treats will never touch yours. Life's too short to spend time with someone who doesn't appreciate the taste sensation that is ice cream.

___ You bring the regal Exquisite Mint to ice cream socials. As a queen of frozen gratifications, you reserve the right to relish every scoop.

The Decadent Diva

___ You hold the view that a day without ice cream is like a day without flashing your vibrant smile. Sure it can be done, but why bother getting up in the morning.

___ You occasionally substitute slightly melted Vanilla Bean ice cream for milk with your morning bowl of cereal. Such a scrumptious breakfast beats coffee and toast.

___ You think nothing of topping your Chocolate Bunny Tracks ice cream with more caramel and fudge — and then crowning with whipped cream and a cherry. "Excess" is not a dirty word in your vocabulary.
